How it works

All third-party requestors are referred to our secure web-based platform.

Verifiers can utilize the self-service portal to request VOE + VOI reports, with employee's consent. And with instant verifications, employees won't have to experience any delays with their desired transactions.

Commercial verifiers are charged one-time per request, and social service verifiers can receive reports at no cost.

Leading employers turn to Experian Employer Services to alleviate the HR burden of fulfilling verifications of employment and income. This allows internal resources to focus on higher value tasks and initiatives.

Secure, Confidential, and Accurate Verifications

Our mission has been to provide a fully-managed service to completely eliminate the verification workload for the employer, while providing compelling value for all stakeholders. Experian Employer Services' uniquely secure process gives employees the peace of mind that their data is only released to authorized verifiers with their consent. Our service model is employer and employee-centric, focusing on relieving outlier verifications that take valuable time and internal resources to complete.
