State Initiatives

Likely for 2025 Session

Artificial Intelligence

- At least 45 states plus DC, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands introduced AI laws in the last session
- Congress signaling a wait and see approach; activity is set to continue
- Several states created task forces or commissions in 2024; likely to continue
- Thus far very few laws have been passed that are aimed at employers

Paid Family and Medical Leave

- Numbers continue to grow with the absence of any Federal law
- Several states have already introduced bills this year aimed at establishing new programs or tweaking existing laws
- Arkansas, Massachusetts, New York, and Virginia have already introduced laws aimed at establishing new programs or tweaking existing ones

Consumer Privacy Laws

- These laws are becoming more prevalent on both a state and international level as regulators seek to protect collection, use, and disclosure of PII by businesses
- In 2024, seven states enacted some sort of privacy legislation, bringing the total to 20
- Likely to continue as a hot topic in 2025

Taxation/Revenue measures are likely to be examined as state budgets face shortfalls from pandemic-related federal dollars end. Current admin less likely to assist and may punish those states not aligned with the federal agenda.

Poll Question 2

As a multi-state employer, we struggle the most with...

- ☐ Tracking state law and regulatory changes in general
- ☐ Keeping forms and posters to be presented to EEs updated
- ☐ Changes to state withholding processes
- ☐ N/A, we are not a multi-state employer

2025 Unemployment Tax Overview

Poll Question 3

All state unemployment tax rates are mailed by December 31 each year.

- ☐ True
- ☐ False

Unemployment Tax

2025 At-a-Glance

- All but 6 states have mailed 2025 tax rates to employers
- Most states either maintained their taxable payroll threshold or increased them for 2025
- Rate factors remained mainly unchanged but if there was a change, they increased
- States still trying to shore up their trust fund balances from pandemic depletion
- Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA) has been put into place in affected counties in California because of wildfires (check out our blog about it)

State Unemployment Trust Fund - Balance Outlook

Unemployment Tax

State UI Trust Fund Balances

- Most recent data provided by U.S. Department of Labor Office of Unemployment Insurance Division of Fiscal and Actuarial Services
  - Minimum solvency levels of state UI trust funds met the recommended minimum solvency threshold in only 20 states while others were below this and a few above
  - Represents increase from prior year but much lower than pre-pandemic numbers
- Each state has a calculated Average High-Cost Multiple to determine if it is properly funded to endure a downturn in the economy
  - This calculation is made by dividing a state's UI trust fund balance by the average benefit cost rate of the three highest cost years in the last 20 years
  - It sets the threshold for what amount is needed in the trust fund in order to withstand a recession

EXAMPLE - Trust fund balance is $3,000,000 while AHCM is $5,000,000. This means the trust fund would not withstand a recession, thereby requiring a state to use alternative methods to keep its trust fund solvent in the event of a recession.

Department of Labor Secretary Appointment

- Strong pro-labor stance, having supported the Protecting the Right to Organize (PRO) Act that aims to make it easier for workers to unionize
- Support from some unions including Teamsters
- Served only one term in Congress before losing reelection bid; may be seen as drawback to some
- Since UI is paid for primarily by employers, will be interesting to see if she changes her pro-labor stance at all
- Last year, 10+ states tried to pass legislation to allow benefits to claimants affected by a trade dispute, but none passed
